Running Meetings

Meeting days: Tuesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays

Meeting location/platform: Virtually (Discord call) or in-person

Meetings will follow this structure:

1. Quick check-in (To do / In progress / Completed)
2. Review sprint board/backlog
3. Assign tasks + confirm deadlines
4. Identify blockers/risks
5. Confirm next steps before ending

Rotating roles (weekly):

- Facilitator: keeps the meeting on track
- Note-taker: records notes and action items
- Timekeeper: enforces timeboxes

Meeting Preparation

Before meetings, each member will:

- Review the sprint board (Trello/GitHub)
- Post a short update on tasks: To do / In progress / Completed
- Come prepared with estimates, dependencies, and questions for planning meetings

Version Control (Git) Expectations

We will use GitHub:

Branching:

- main = stable / release-ready
- dev = integration
- Feature branches: feature/<name>

Rules:

- No direct commits to main
- All merges require a Pull Request (PR)
- At least 1 review/approval before merge
- Small, clear commits with meaningful messages

Do not commit: secrets, API keys, passwords, large binaries, node_modules, compiled output, or personal config files

Division of Work

- Tasks will be assigned during sprint planning based on:
 - Balanced workload
 - Skills/learning goals
 - Task dependencies
- Each task must include:
 - An owner
 - A deadline
 - A clear Definition of Done
- If workload becomes unbalanced, we will adjust tasks early instead of waiting until the deadline

Deliverables and Submission

- We aim to finish sprint deliverables at least 24 hours before the official deadline.
- Before submission, we will complete a checklist:
 - Requirements met
 - App runs / tests pass
 - Documentation updated (README, sprint notes, etc.)

Submission owner: Justin Valle (Subject to change)

Reviewer(s) before submission: Andrei Lopez, Gurleen Sandhu (Subject to change)

Contingency Planning and Conflict Resolution

If a team member is not meeting expectations:

1. Private check-in and offer support
2. Clear written expectations + a timeline for improvement
3. Escalate to TA/instructor if the issue continues

If a member becomes unavailable or drops out:

- We will re-scope sprint goals immediately
- Redistribute tasks fairly
- Inform the TA/instructor as early as possible

Academic integrity:

- We will not copy from other teams.
- External resources are allowed only if permitted and will be cited where appropriate.
- If unsure, we will ask the TA/instructor
